TWENTIETH YEAR

GETTYSBURG, PA., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 4th, 1922.

PRICE TWO CENTS

THE ACADEMY ACQUIRES HOME

Property of Mrs. Mary C. Bair Opposite Campus on Carlisle Street Rented.

FOR BOYS DORMITORY

Will Have Rooms For One Hundred Students Next Fall. Advertising Campaign Planned.

That Gettysburg College intends to keep pace with the leading institutions in the State is shown by the announcement of an enlargement in the preparatory department for next year. The large dwelling of Mrs. Mary C. Bair, located on Carlisle street opposite the present Academy buildings has been leased for a period of one year with the privilege of five, by Dr. Charles H. Huber, the Headmaster, acting for the trustees of College and will be remodeled for use as a dormitory. This addition to the present equipment will be known as the Junior Dormitory and after being remodeled for the purpose will give accommodations for twenty boys and two masters, the idea being to devote the building entirely to the use of the younger boys ranging in age of from 12 to 15 years.

Possession of the property will be given by Mrs. Bair on August first and the necessary changes will be made immediately in order to have it ready for use with the opening of school in the fall. The building lends itself admirably to the purpose so that a great deal of remodeling is not necessary, but the authorities intend to repaint and renovate the entire interior and then new furniture will be used in all the rooms, making the place thoroughly modern.

Next fall Gettysburg Academy will enter upon its ninety-fifth year and it is planned to make it the best in its long history. A special effort will be made in the coming summer to solicit students for the institution and an advertising campaign such as never before employed, will be run in several magazines calling attention to the many advantages to be offered in Gettysburg. Besides a strong curriculum, the best of buildings and equipment is offered and the surroundings are not surpassed anywhere, being located in an historic spot, on the Battlefield of Gettysburg. There are also many other advantages in being connected with the College and the Seminary. Academy students will have the use of the fine new Y. M. C. A. building with all its modern equipment, including the swimming pool, also the college library and many

INFORMAL MEETING

Chamber to Hold Special Meeting Monday Evening.

At a special meeting of the directors of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce Monday evening at 8 o'clock plans for an ambitious membership campaign will be discussed, it was decided at an informal meeting of directors Friday evening. Several other important projects will be taken up at the same time, it was said.

Announcement was made that representatives of the Chambersburg Chamber of Commerce had consented to come to Gettysburg and explain the plan of co-operation now in use there by the Chamber and the Farm Bureau. While no definite arrangements were made it is probable the meeting will take the form of an evening luncheon.

WHEAT NOW $1.17

Wheat has shown considerable activity in the past few days on the local market and the price has risen five cents since Thursday. The price on that day was $1.12 and the following day it jumped two cents while on Saturday another rise of three cents was announced.

MANY CHANGES IN BUSINESS PLACES

Strouse-Baer Sewing Factory Will Move Machines Next Week.

GROCERY STORES LISTED

Gettysburg Department Store to Close Out Grocery End. John Mumper to Sell. H. B. Bender Disposes of Store.

Gettysburg will soon witness many changes in business. One industry, the Strouse-Baer sewing factory, Centre Square, will leave town within the next week. The stock and fixtures of two grocery stores, almost adjoining, will be disposed of about the first of April. They are the store of John A. Mumper and the grocery section of the Gettysburg Department Store. In the same block, H. B. Bender, who has conducted a furniture store for the past twenty five years, is making preparations to sell his stock and fixtures to Roy I. Wentz, York street.

No orders, dull times, and heavy overhead expenses are given as the reasons for the Gettysburg branch of the Strouse-Baer Company closing its doors next week. The sewing factory employed 23 girls during their busy seasons. A member of the firm with headquarters in Baltimore, was in town Friday at which time he informed the forewoman, Miss Bessie Walters, of the company's intention to close the Gettysburg plant. The Strouse-Baer Company has been operating the branch here since April 26, last year, when they purchased the machines and fixtures from Mendel Brothers, who were operating a similar sewing factory here.

The company here manufactured middy suits for young boys. They were retailed under the name of Jack Tar Togs. The output of the factory here was about 100 dozens a week. The announcement that the shop would be dismantled and moved from town, came as a surprise to all the operatives who during the past weeks had been working full time with no intimation of a lay-off.

The firm, which also has similar factories in Littlestown and Spring Grove, will move the sewing machines and other equipment to one of these places, the management announced. Both of these factories will be kept in operation. A number of the girls have already been discharged and next Wednesday the machines will be moved, it is said.

The member of the firm who was in town Friday did not say whether or not the local plant would be reopened if trade conditions warranted.

To Sell Grocery Stock

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Gettysburg Department Store, Friday afternoon, it was decided to dispose of the grocery department of their store. The department, it was said, has not been a paying proposition for some time.

The stock will be sold at cost prices.

URIAH POWELL

Veteran of Civil War Dies as Result of Fractured Hip.

Uriah Powell, Civil War veteran, died at his home in Arendtsville Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock. About two weeks ago he had a fall which resulted in the fracturing of his hip, from which complications resulted which it is believed, caused his death. He was aged 87 years and 7 months and is survived by his wife and four daughters and one son, Mrs. Clayton Miller, and John Powell, Biglerville; Mrs. John Hamilton, Gardners; Mrs. Andrew Flickinger, Gettysburg R. D.; and Mrs. Peter Flickinger, Arendtsville. Also twenty four grandchildren and six great grandchildren. One sister survives, Mrs. Mary Hahn, of Cumberland township.

The deceased was a veteran of the Civil War and served as a private in Company K 87th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry of which David B. Greenwalt was the captain. He was a son of the late John and Catherine Powell, of near Flohr's church.

Funeral Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock, services at the house followed by interment at Flohr's. Rev. David T. Koser, officiating.

LATTER DAYS OF DRIVE ENCOURAGE

Legion Members Are Confident That Drive Will Net $2,000 For House Fund.

With five or six persons yet to be interviewed before Monday, the members of the committee of the Albert Lentz Legion post in charge of soliciting funds for the purchase of the Legion home on York street, report that they are pleased with the generous response that has met their efforts during the past week. Few contributions were received during the first week the committee was at work and this discouraged them somewhat, but from present indications, their determined effort will be rewarded.

Several of the men on the committee have not as yet reported to the chairman the amounts they have collected, but at the present time almost $1,200 has been reported toward the purchase of the home. One member of the committee states that he has about $500 in checks and pledges which he has not reported to the chairman of the committee up to this time. With these two amounts and still a number of checks not reported by various members of the committee, the veterans believe that about $2,000 will be netted from the drive. During the past week, several checks for $100 have been received by the solicitation committee.

At the first regular meeting for the month of February on Monday night at 7:30 in the Legion rooms, Centre Square, the chairman of the committee in charge of soliciting funds will make his final report. The members of the Legion now feel confident that with the amount already in the treasury and the sum just collected, the major portion of the debt incurred in the purchase of the C. M. Wolf property, York street, can be paid off on April 1, leaving only a small indebtedness for the Legion to bear.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS

Is Served a "Dutch Lunch" at Regular Monthly Meeting.

A "Dutch lunch" consisting of wieners, sauerkraut, rolls and smokes was served to the members present at the regular monthly meeting of the Men's Bible class of Trinity Reformed church Friday evening. The lunch followed a business meeting after which a special program was rendered consisting of music by the class orchestra and the Swisher Trio. In addition William Frey and John E. Stahl gave readings. It was decided to invite the wives and friends of the members of the class to the next regular meeting of the society which will be held the first Friday in March.

TO HOLD PUBLIC MEETING

Water Company Proposition Will Be Presented.

A public meeting will be held in Fairfield next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of discussing the proposed plan of organizing the Fairfield Water Company. The meeting will be held in the high school building. A public gathering scheduled for last Wednesday evening was postponed because of inclement weather.

On Monday night the publicity committee will hold a session to make plans for the installation of the chemical fire fighting equipment, which is expected to arrive next week.

CELEBRATE ST. BLASIUS FEAST

The feast of St. Blasius was celebrated Friday evening in St. Francis Xavier church, by the pastor, Fr. Mark Stock. The service consisted of instruction, blessing of throats and benediction. As Ash Wednesday which ushers in the Lenten period comes on March 1st, there are many festivals and holy days in this month.

WILL HOLD CANVASS MARCH 5

At a meeting of the elders and trustees of the Presbyterian church, together with Rev. W. C. Robinson, pastor, held Friday evening, it was decided to hold the annual every-member canvass on March 5, the first Sunday of the month. S. G. Bigham is chairman of the committee in charge of the canvass.

BOARD OF HEALTH BANS MEETINGS

Closes Schools And Churches in Arendtsville, Fearing Diphtheria Epidemic.

EPIDEMIC BROUGHT HERE

Bruce Wolff Slept With Sick Boy And Now Three Persons of Dr. W. E. Wolff's House Are Ill.

Prompt action to check the spread of diphtheria, an outbreak of which has been discovered in Arendtsville was taken by the Board of Health at a special meeting held Friday night when it decided to close all churches Sunday, and prohibit all public meetings over the week-end. The schools were also ordered closed until next Wednesday. Business places and private households have been asked to co-operate with the edict of the health board and refrain from allowing persons to gather until the epidemic has been curbed.

There are three cases of diphtheria in the borough confined to the family of Dr. William E. Wolff. His son, Bruce, and daughter, Katherine, and Hermie Black, a maid, have all contracted the disease. In order to prevent the spread of the malady through the town precautions have been taken by the health authorities. At present there are a number of suspect cases in the village and care is being taken to isolate them until throat cultures can be examined.

Officers Notified

As soon as the disease was discovered the board of health got in touch with the county health officer, Dr. C. G. Crist, who communicated with Dr. J. Bruce McCreary, of the State Health Department. Dr. McCreary and Dr. Crist, assisted by Miss Kate Briel, Friday took cultures from the throats and noses of all the pupils of the Arendtsville Vocational School. They were unable to secure cultures from the pupils of the grade schools on account of a lack of tubes. These have been procured and this afternoon the doctors took cultures of the throats and noses of the grade pupils. While the schools are closed, the school board will have the rooms thoroughly cleaned and fumigated.

Just as soon as reports are made concerning the cultures, those who show no diphtheria germs will be allowed to return to school next Wednesday. The others, however, who show symptoms of diphtheria will be

THIEVES UNLOCK FRONT ENTRANCE

Robbers at New Oxford Restaurant Get Little Booty For Their Trouble.

Thieves unlocked the front door of C. H. Robinson's restaurant, on Hanover street, New Oxford, Friday night, and after stealing four boxes of cigars, a carton of cigarets and a box of chewing gum, walked out the main entrance, locking the door behind them. This is the only possible place the burglars could have entered the building for all the windows were tightly barred and the rear door was fastened by a padlock on the inside.

The lock on the front door is just a common one and requires no special key to open it. The robbers got no money for their efforts because Mr. Robinson had taken the money from the drawer before closing the restaurant for the night. No one saw the men enter or leave the building and they left no clue to their identity. The restaurant is in a building which stands alone and no one heard the intruders.

Several young men in New Oxford were under the influence of liquor Friday night, it is said, and suspicion has fallen upon them.

MRS. REBECCA DEARDORFF

The funeral of Mrs. Rebecca Deardorff, whose death occurred at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Herman, New Oxford, on Wednesday, was held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the house. The Rev. Harry Kehm, East Berlin, officiated. The pallbearers were Harry Lough, Curtis Wehler, Clarence Ruff and Ralph Miller. Interment was made in New Oxford cemetery.

BREATHING SPELL UNTIL WEDNESDAY

Court Adjourns Shenk Hearing With Still More Witnesses to be Called.

After hearing witnesses on behalf of the plaintiffs for the past three days at the argument session of the Adams county court to set Marie C. Shenk aside as executrix of the will of Sampson Albert, with still more witnesses subpoenaed who have not yet testified, court was adjourned Friday afternoon at 4:45 until Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. This was done to give judges, counsel, witnesses and spectators a breathing spell. It is said that counsel for the plaintiffs have eight or ten witnesses who had not appeared on stand up to Friday. The taking of the remainder of this testimony, it is believed, will occupy a day and a half next week before witnesses for the defendants take the stand.

The most important witnesses for the plaintiffs appeared on the stand the past three days. Among them were John Duncan, John Albert and his wife, Justice of the Peace Boyer, of Carlisle, the man who wrote the contested document, and Dr. Longsdorff, of near Carlisle, who testified to Mr. Albert's condition at the time of his death. Other witnesses called Friday afternoon were Miss Anna Nell, Charles Pearson, Norman Neigle, Edward Spertzell, Andrew Hartman and Spencer Snyder. All of them testified to the state of Mr. Albert's health during the summer of 1921 and added no new testimony except that of Miss Nell, who said that when she went to visit Mr. Albert at the Shenk home after he was taken there, admittance to his room was refused her by Marie Shenk.

When the remainder of the witnesses for the plaintiffs have been disposed of, those on the side of the defendants will be called. It is then expected that Miss Shenk will testify on her own behalf as well as other members of the Shenk family.

BALLOT WITHOUT RESULT

(By Associated Press) Rome, Feb. 4.—Another ballot for the election of the successor of Pope Benedict was taken at the conclave of the sacred college but without result, no candidate receiving a sufficient number of votes.

A ballot this afternoon by the sacred college, the second failed to select a successor to the late Pope Benedict XV.

Not all the members of the crowd however were satisfied that the smoke spiral indicated that a ballot had been successful and eventually there was a rush up the steps that the fire indicated a ballot had been completed.

Prominent Romans on the steps of the Vatican waved their hands in expectation to get the first word.

It was not until Cardinal Mannelli member of the sacred college, after a long interval appeared upon the balcony saying the Vatican as a whole that no selection had been made.

THEIR WORK IS OVER

The committee of citizens of Abbotstown, who were instrumental in securing electric light for the streets and homes in that borough, met Friday evening when it was reported that the entire issue of bonds amounting to $17,000 had been disposed of. Incidental business was transacted after which the committee disbanded. The power is furnished from Lemoine.

BANDITS FIGHT POLICE

(By Associated Press) Chicago, Feb. 4.—Two bandits entered a jewelry store in the exclusive Sheridan road residential section, handcuffed the proprietor and a customer and after gathering up jewelry valued at $10,000 fought a pistol fight with policemen outside in which one policeman and one bandit were wounded. The wounded bandit was captured.

LEGION HEAD AT YORK RALLY

Hanford MacNider Pleads For Passage of Adjusted Compensation Bill by Congress.

CROWD FILLS THEATRE

Given Rousing Reception by Former Service Men of York And Adams Counties as he Appears on Stage.

Fair play for the disabled veterans of the World war and justice to all the men who gave of their services freely and without a whimper so that democracy might be preserved, was strongly advocated by Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, in an address given before 1,500 veterans Friday night in the Orpheum theatre, York. By the passage of the adjusted compensation bill now before the House and Senate, congress can pay off a debt of gratitude, an obligation which the nation cannot justly escape.

In addition to the stirring appeal made for the disabled veterans by Commander MacNider, all the speakers who took the platform strongly supported the measure. This subject, the adjusted compensation bill, and the objective of the American Legion in promoting Americanization, were the major topics of the evening.

Commander MacNider was forced to forego the pleasure of a trip to Mont Alto, where he was scheduled to go Saturday to visit the soldiers confined to the hospital there, because of an urgent telegram calling him to Philadelphia. With Humphrey Sullivan, head of the legion speakers' bureau, he left Friday night for the Quaker City.

The rally opened with the first and second floors of the theatre virtually filled with ex-service men and interested citizens who came to hear MacNider and his associates speak. Headed by the York post band, the party marched from the Y. M. C. A., where a banquet was served about 125 delegates from legion posts in York and Adams counties.

When he stepped into view on the stage the soldier-leader was recognized and given a rousing ovation, the legionnaires jumping to their feet and cheering lustily for their commander. He recognized the tribute with a wave of the hand and a smile, the din subsiding after the remainder of the party was seated.

Those who were on the stage were Hanford MacNider, Congressman Edward Brooks, Colonel Joseph Thompson, Commander Edwin Barnitz, Rev. Walter J. Hogue, Mayor Hugentugler, Mrs. Edith Plank Shirley, Ben-Metz, Joe Goins, better known as "Senator Mahoney"; Humphrey Sullivan, Mr. Gallagher, of the Veterans' Bureau, Harrisburg, and officers of the Legion Auxiliaries.

State Commander in Charge The meeting was turned over to State Commander Joseph Thompson by Edward A. Barnitz, commander of York post, and was opened with the same ceremony as the regular meetings of all posts of the country—the entire audience facing the west in memory of the dead heroes. Rev. W. J. Hogue offered the prayer.

Heading the list of speakers was Mayor Hugentugler, who welcomed the party to York, expressing the pride the city felt in their presence.

That Commander MacNider has dedicated his time to looking after the interests of the maimed, blind, and diseased, made so far by their active

RAIL AT POST OFFICE BROKEN

Limb From Tree Fell After Being Burned Off by Electric Wire.

Early Friday evening and during the severe wind storm which passed over town, an electric wire in front of the Post Office was blown into contact with a large limb on one of the trees. The highly charged wire set fire to the tree branch, burning it off and in falling the limb struck the hand rail on the post office steps and broke down a considerable section of it.

No serious damage has been reported being done by the high wind, but many tree limbs were broken, and other small damage done to properties about town.

ARMS PARLEY IN FINAL SESSION

Sixth Plenary Meeting Held Today Ends in Final Wave of Oratory.

HARDING TO END MEETING

General Far Eastern Treaty With Root Four Points And Open Door For China Adopted.

(By Associated Press) Washington, Feb. 4.—The arms conference moved swiftly toward its close today with the sixth plenary session, at which were formally announced the far eastern treaty, re-stated policy of the open door and affirmation anew of the territorial integrity of the old celestial nation—the dream of her people since the numerous encroachments by foreign powers began years ago.

The new treaty for revising the Chinese tariff also was presented and the way was cleared for another and final plenary session when President Harding will mark the end of the history making conference with an address.

The general far eastern treaty embodying the Root four points, and the open door for China was presented first by Secretary Hughes. The text of treaty followed closely and in some places identically the language of the resolutions previously adopted on the subject of the conference. Without a word of discussion the treaty was approved on a roll call of nine powers. A declaration by China not to alienate any portion of her territory also was put on the conference record. Then the Chinese tariff treaty was presented by Senator Underwood, chairman of the committee that drafted it.

A resolution was unanimously adopted which was designed to provide procedure dealing with questions that might arise in connection with the execution of provisions of articles of the Chinese general treaty relating to the open door policy and conduct of the Chinese railway. It provides that a board of reference be established in China to which any questions might be referred for investigation and report. It also stipulates that the special conference provided for in the treaty relating to Chinese customs tariff shall be formulated for approval of the powers concerned.

At 12:35 p. m., the calendar was finished and Arthur Balfour, heading for what was expected to be a final British delegation, took the floor wave of oratory marking the conclusion of the work of the conference.

STARS ARE WITNESSES

Unnamed Actress Is Center of Police Investigation.

(By Associated Press) Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 4.—Famous stars of filmdom were summoned as witnesses today at the inquest into the death of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, soldier and adventurer whose name may be William Dean Tanner, slain by a bullet in the back at his residence here Wednesday night.

The police investigation of the crime revealed by today a phase of complexity in the life of Taylor or Tanner. The director's reported affairs of the heart continued to be the leading subjects of inquiry. Mabel Normand, Mary Miles Minter and Neva Gerber are three of the motion picture actresses involved in the police investigation. Reports have come to the police, they said, that a love affair at one time or another existed between each of these and the slain director.

Police say without mentioning the name that a motion picture actress is the center of their investigation. A theory of a revenge motive with jealousy as the cause, the police say, is being analyzed.

STOCK REPORT

(By Associated Press) New York, Feb. 4.—The short interests in the stock market had another anxious time today, the brief trading period being attended by further active buying of equipments, oils, motors and numerous specialties with extreme gains of 1 to 4 points. Rails gave promise of extending their recent advances but interest in that quarter waned later. The closing was strong, sales approximating 450,000 shares. An easier tone was shown by Liberty issues but other bonds were firm.

NO CHOICE MADE IN FOUR BALLOTS

Voting of First Day by Conclave of Sacred College is Without Result.

CROWD MISTAKES SMOKE

Traditional Signal Which Indicates The Election of a Pope Proves Mistake.

Rome, Feb. 4.—Voting for the election of a Pope to succeed Benedict XV was begun by the conclave of the Sacred College Friday. Two ballots were taken up to 1 o'clock in the afternoon, on neither of which any Cardinal received a sufficient number of votes to elect.

The third and fourth ballots were taken by the conclave in the evening. There was no choice, however, on either of these ballots.

White Smoke Signal Error

White smoke poured out of the stove-pipe over the Sistine Chapel at 12:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, and a crowd of 5000 gathered in St. Peter's Square, thinking this meant the election of a new Pope, rushed before the balcony of St. Peter's. Some even reached the inside of the basilica to receive the new Pontiff's first benediction, but it was explained that the white smoke was a mistake.

One of the Vatican officials waved his hand from the Vatican palace, outside the limits of the conclave, indicating that there was no election, a two-thirds vote not having been attained by any candidate.

The immense crowd had waited since 10 o'clock in the morning for the sign. Among the plain Roman citizens were Ambassadors to the Holy See, former members of the Pontifical household, commanders and guards, anxious to obtain first news of the election. The entrance into the Vatican was barred by the Swiss Guards, but the crowds looked on anxiously.

Mistake Is Explained

Some of those who had watched previous elections, explained that the white smoke was too dense, that when the Pope is elected it is a thin wisp instead of a dense cloud. Others, however, thought that the person who was burning the ballots had not sufficiently dampened the straw, which is burnt with them, to give off a dark cloud.

It was learned that three of the Cardinals who are within the Vatican quarters, where the sessions of the conclave are being held, are confined to their beds. These are Cardinal Marini, who was taken into the conclave suffering with influenza; Cardinal Pompili and Cardinal Bacilieri, Bishop of Verona.

Fifty-Three Cardinals Voting

Fifty-three members of the Sacred College assembled in the historic Sistine Chapel to cast their first ballots in the election. The doors of the Vatican were closed Thursday with the elaborate centuries-old ceremony, to remain closed until the next Pontiff is chosen and invested in the Pontifical mitre, chasuble and stole.

Cardinal Marini, ill of influenza, was taken into the Vatican before the doors were closed. It had been thought he would be unable to attend. He did not participate in the opening ceremonies, remaining in bed.

Ballots Burned In Iron Stove

Four ballots will be taken daily, instead of two as had been the rule. It was learned through the Irish College and confirmed in other quarters. A common iron stove, in which the ballots are burning, the smoke from it making evident to the people outside the number and issue of the successive ballots, is installed outside the limits of the long lines of Cardinals' thrones in the Sistine Chapel. Two sacks of straw lie nearby. This is used to color the smoke of the burning voting papers, dark smoke indicating to the crowds watching the chimney that there is still no election, and light vapor that a new Pope reigns.

The first vote, it was expected would be merely in the nature of a test of the drift of sentiment. Progress after that, however, is likely to be fairly rapid, Cardinal Gasparri and others having indicated their belief that the conclave will not be long-lived.

O'Connell Likely To Be Late

There is much interest in Rome in the effort of Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, to reach here in time to participate in the voting.

The steamship President Wilson, bringing Cardinal O'Connell, will not arrive in Naples before next Monday morning.

YORK TO HAVE COLORED POST

Organization of a post of the American Legion for colored soldiers of York will be effected.

The number of negro soldiers of York city who answered the call of their country at the outset of the war and served in camps on this side and in the trenches abroad, is about fifty-five.

GERMAN MONEY KING IN MARKET

Hugo Stinnes Quotes Steel Rails in U. S. Below American Prices.

New York, Feb. 4.—The name of Hugo Stinnes—one to conjure with in Germany—has smashed its way into Wall street.

Big business, particularly the steel industry, is interested, and is asking if Stinnes has designs upon the commercial and industrial activities of this country.

The first concrete evidences of his plans came Thursday with the announcement that he was negotiating with several American railroads for the sale of 15,000 tons of German rails—at a price, including freight, about $2.25 a ton less than the current American price of $40. A mere 15,000 tons is a relatively small offering, worth less than a half million dollars at Stinnes' price. But, it was pointed out, it is a very fair sized initial offering.

Credited with controlling eight billion marks of capital and with being the most powerful figure, industrially and politically in Germany, Stinnes rode to the crest of his power on the war.

He it was, say his enemies, who conceived the idea of deporting Belgian workers to Germany, and who headed the German interests that exploited Belgian mines and other resources during the occupation.

He also was reported to have made fabulous sums by the filling of munition and other government contracts.

Even before the war, Stinnes was the biggest iron and coal figure in Germany.

Reports of his purchases, of his consolidations and reorganizations then became a matter of almost daily chronicling in the newspapers. Shipyards in Sweden, mines in Austria and Sweden, steel plants in Denmark, oil wells in South America—newspapers, papermills, hotels, street cars, shoe factories, aniline dye works, motion picture producing plants—all became grist for the Stinnes mill. He is said to have advanced Lenin a large sum on the Russian crown jewels for the Soviet government.

Trace Epidemic

The epidemic has been traced to Harrisburg where Bruce Wolff attended the Farm Products Show the week of January 23. While in Harrisburg, he slept with another young boy living in that city who complained of feeling ill at the time but was able to be up. Six days after young Wolff returned home, his father was notified that the illness of the boy with whom his son slept while in Harrisburg, had been pronounced diphtheria. In the meantime, Bruce attended school until last Wednesday when he was taken sick with the diphtheria and quarantined to his home. In the past two days, his sister and the maid have also contracted the disease.

Precautions Taken

Every precaution is being taken by the health authorities of Arendtsville and the State department, working together, to prevent an epidemic similar to the one in McSherrytown last November when over 100 cases were under quarantine at one time.

P. S. Orner, president of the Board of Health, presided at the meeting which was attended by William Boyer, Arnold Raffensperger, Jacob Taylor, and Ralph Heckenluber. A. D. Sheely, secretary, was also present.

ENTERTAIN FOR DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roddy, Steinwehr avenue, entertained a number of guests at their home Friday evening in honor of their daughter, Lindora.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Reading, Helen Robinson, Ruth Reading, Vera Knox, Gladys Small, Florence Rummel, Regina Knox, Marie Hoffman, Viola Knox, Mary Culp, Dorothy Knox, Elizabeth Gallagher, Viola Hoffman, Ida Dillman, Ethel Overholzer, Alice Overholzer, and Messers Simon Roddy, Francis Knox, Fred Tate, Jack Knox, Howard Johns, Maurice Small, Marion Tate, John Eckenrode, Martin Redding, Edward Redding, Edward Culp and Paul Miller.

BOULDER WRECKS TRAIN

Connellsville, Pa., Feb. 4.—W. T. Whitman, fireman of Cumberland, Maryland, was seriously injured today when a westbound passenger train on the B. and O. was derailed at Pinkerton tunnel, near Markleton. Passengers were shaken up but none was seriously hurt. The train, a fast passenger from Baltimore to Pittsburgh, struck a huge boulder which rolled down the mountain side and lodged on the tracks.

ACTRESSES ARE CALLED IN PROBE

Mabel Normand, Mary Miles Minter And Edna Purviance Subpoenaed For Inquest.

POLICE SEEK STRANGER

Evidence Points to Former Valet, Who Had Previously Robbed Dead Movie Director.

Los Angeles, Feb. 4.—The Coroner of Los Angeles county announced that an inquest would be held this afternoon over the body of William D. Taylor, motion picture director, shot in his home here Wednesday night. The inquest will be held at the undertaking parlors where Taylor's body was taken.

Subpoenas will be issued and sent out for service, directed to Miss Mabel Normand, motion picture actress, who has told the police that Taylor escorted her from his home to her automobile at a time believed to have been only a few minutes before his death; William Davis, Miss Normand's chauffeur; Mary Miles Minter, actress formerly directed by Taylor, and who went to the scene of his death Thursday as soon as word of it spread; Douglas MacLean, actor, and Mrs. MacLean, who told the police of happenings in the bungalow or apartment court where they and Mr. Taylor had their homes, and who described a stranger seen there early Wednesday evening; Edna Purviance, actress, who told the police she had telephoned Miss Minter and others of the death; Charles Eytan, a production manager at the studio where Taylor was employed; and Henry Peasey, Taylor's houseman, whose story was that he had left the Taylor home an hour or so before Miss Normand left.

Police Quiz Director Maigre

Charles Maigre, a director at the Lasky studios, left the Central police station after being in consultation for more than an hour with Captain of Detectives J. L. Moffat. He declined to state what had been discussed, but declared he believed Edward Sands, former butler for Taylor, could give valuable information in the case. The police have been searching for Sands for several months on a charge of forgery made by Taylor.

Maigre is also a close friend of Mabel Normand, and was with her Thursday when she received newspaper men who sought her story of her call at Taylor's home Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Douglas MacLean, wife of a motion picture actor, said that on evening of the murder she heard a shot and looking from the window of her home, which overlooks that of Taylor, saw a man, a stranger to her, emerge from the front door of Taylor's home, look back through and apparently speak, close the door and depart.

Directed Stranger To House

Another link is a statement by employees at an oil service station nearby that within an hour prior to that time, a stranger whom they describe similarly, asked them where W. D. Taylor lived and they directed him to the place where the shooting later occurred. The crew of a street car added information that at a time closely corresponding to that which Mrs. MacLean gives as of the departure of the mystery man from Taylor's house, a stranger boarded the car at a stop close by, from which passengers rarely boarded a car. They described him similarly.

These revelations only served to deepen the mystery, for Mrs. MacLean said the stranger was not the former servant of Taylor, whom she knew and for whom the police are seeking. Taylor reported to the police some time ago that this man had stolen property and money from him. The porch light of Taylor's home was on, and Mrs. MacLean observed him in its full glow.

ANOTHER NEAR ACCIDENT

Another accident was narrowly averted on the west side of Unlucky Hill, one mile west of Cashtown, on Friday evening at 5 o'clock when a large touring car driven by M. Anderson, colored, of New Kensington, this state, slid from the ice-coated road. Snow piled along the side prevented the machine from going over a steep embankment. Two other persons, both colored, were in the car at the time. A crew from the Cashtown garage worked two hours to get the automobile back on the road. It was towed to the garage and repaired.

ARBUCKLE MUST HAVE THIRD TRIAL

Jury in Manslaughter Case Discharged After 14 Ballots Were Taken.

San Francisco, Feb. 4.—The jury failed to agree and was discharged Friday in the second trial of a manslaughter charge against Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress.

District Attorney Brady, who was not in Court when the jury returned, announced later that had the majority of the jurors voted for an acquittal he would have moved for a dismissal. "As the jury stood ten for conviction to two for acquittal, it is manifestly my duty to try the case again," he said.

Foreman J. J. McElroy announced that the vote stood two to ten. He did not designate whether the majority was for conviction or acquittal.

"There is no chance for us to agree," McElroy said.

A poll of the jury was taken to determine if they could agree on further deliberation. All emphatically said, "No." Arbuckle seemed downcast at the disagreement. The case was put over until Monday to be set for trial.

Defense Case Was Weak

Announcement that the jury stood ten for conviction and two for acquittal was made by Leo Friedman, assistant District Attorney and a leading prosecution counsel. Harry McGovern, bailiff, made the same announcement.

"The defense presented a very weak case," Friedman said. "Its failure to argue the case counted greatly against it. The fact that Arbuckle did not take the stand had no effect on us."

"The first ten ballots were nine to three for conviction. Then it switched to ten to two, and stayed there until the fourteenth ballot, the last one taken," Friedman said. Arbuckle has been a defendant three times, once in a police Court hearing on a murder charge sworn to by Miss Rappe's companion, Mrs. Bambina Maude Delmont, which was reduced to manslaughter, and twice in the Superior Court on manslaughter trials.

The first trial took several weeks and resulted in a hung jury, one woman, Mrs. Helen Hubbard, being the only juror who consistently voted for conviction, although she was joined by one man on the final ballot after three days of deliberation.

Practically the same evidence was presented to each jury. The case will be tried again by a third jury.

THE ACADEMY ACQUIRES HOME

other things which make the life of the student here a pleasant, as well as profitable one.

The history of the Academy in the past few years has been very interesting and filled with progress. Six years ago before the new Preparatory building was erected, there were only rooms enough in the old Stevens Hall building for twenty eight students. There also the class rooms were located on the main floor. After the new building was constructed, it was occupied by the Academy and Stevens Hall was turned over to the use of the college as class rooms, but this arrangement proved too shortsighted, as the Academy soon outgrew the new quarters and Stevens Hall was once again added to the equipment, being used as a dormitory for the Seniors. This year, however, every room in the two buildings is occupied and there are about twenty five day students living in town and vicinity. Under the present arrangement, forty nine students occupy the new Academy building and thirty one live in Stevens Hall making a total of eighty boarding students. By acquiring the Bair residence, it is estimated that twenty more boys can be taken care of and this will bring the total to one hundred.

Mrs. Bair intends to leave Gettysburg and will make her future home with relatives in Baltimore.

The painted face! What a monotony in facial expression. It is neither young nor old. It does not deceive and it does not impress. Cheeks, flour-white Lips, beet-red. Features, shading into rose and pink, like the physiognomy of a wooden Indian. Eyes like balls of fire, rimmed in charcoal, with a burlap of hair fit for the head of a wax doll. What a shocking monotony in the painted face! San Francisco Bulletin.

the management states, until all has been disposed of, after which the queensware department will be moved to the first floor and the hardware department enlarged. Several thousand dollars' worth of groceries will be sold, it is said.

The grocery department of the store has been conducted for the past fifteen years, since the incorporation of the store into a stock company. No other changes have been announced for the store.

Would Sell Store

John A. Mumper, who for the past two years has been conducting a grocery store two doors beyond the Gettysburg Department store, also has his stock and fixtures for sale. He expects to close out his store by April 1. There are several prospective customers for the stand, Mr. Mumper states, and within a few weeks the deal is expected to be closed.

Sells Out Furniture Store

Just as soon as appraisal can be made of the stock of the furniture store of H. B. Bender, Baltimore street, negotiations will be closed with Roy I. Wnetz for its purchase. Mr. Bender has conducted the stand for twenty five years, taking over the business formerly conducted by Lee Mumper. Last spring, Mr. Bender, who conducted his store in the McPherson building, Baltimore street, remodeled the Wabash hotel property and moved his stock of furniture and household furnishings to the present location.

Mr. Bender will continue to conduct the undertaking business, in which he has been engaged for a number of years. His son, J. Milton Bender, recently became a partner with him in this business. They will continue to have their funeral parlor adjoining the furniture store and will maintain an office there.

Mr. Bender has built up an enviable furniture business in the past year and has been prominent in the advancement of the town. He is one of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

HARDING AT CONFERENCE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—Plans were made for the attendance of President Harding at a plenary session of the Arms Conference next Monday to witness the signing of the treaties, to thank the delegates for their work and to participate generally in the activities marking adjournment of the conference.

It had been planned to adjourn the conference sine die, Saturday, but State Department draughtsmen said they could not have the official treaty text prepared before Monday.

It was believed the President would make an address at the Monday session and that heads of the various delegations would respond before the final gavel.

Dispose Of "21 Demands" Problem

The Far Eastern Committee of the conference late Friday disposed of the question of the 21 demands imposed by Japan upon China in 1915 with a statement from Japan, China and the United States setting forth their respective attitude, to be spread upon the minutes of the conference. The committee also completed the treaties on the questions involved in the Far Eastern discussions of the conference.

Chief Justice Wang, of China, accepted Baron Shidehara's statement of Thursday announcing that Japan would give up group 5 of the 21 demands and make other concessions, and said that he would reserve for the future the remaining objections China had. Secretary Hughes, on behalf of the American delegation, reviewed the policy of the United States concerning the 21 demands of the past.

YORK MAN FOUND DEAD IN RED LION

Murder is Charged Against Woman Who Registered With Him at Hotel.

Ernest Galloway, York who was accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Strausbaugh, of the same city, was found dead in a room at the Wallick house, Red Lion, early Friday morning. The woman was missing. They were registered as man and wife. The woman later was arrested in York on a charge of murder and is still in jail, pending a further analysis of the stomach, after a post-mortem Friday afternoon and an inquest held by Coroner McConeky.

According to the evidence submitted to the coroner's jury, the death of Galloway, who was 47 years old, probably due to cerebral hemorrhage. While the jury unanimously held to this opinion, yet it was deemed advisable that a verdict be withheld pending analysis of the contents of the stomach of the deceased, a small amount of liquid matter being found therein, and a thorough examination of the stomach.

Dr. Robert L. Ellis, pathologist at the York hospital, who performed the autopsy, was instructed to forward the stomach and contents to the proper state department for examination and analysis.

Charged With Murder

Earlier in the day Court Detective Martin L. Van Baman, at the direction of District Attorney W. Walter Van Baman, preferred information against Margaret A. Strausbaugh, wife of Raymond A. Strausbaugh, who had been in the company of Galloway on the previous evening, charging her with murder. The woman was committed to jail for further action.

The woman was present at the hearing, and on the advice of her counsel, did not testify. Prior to this she had made a statement, which has been reduced to writing, and signed by herself, in the presence of a number of witnesses, as to her being with Galloway on Thursday evening.

Galloway was born in Yorkshire, England, coming to York from West New York, New Jersey. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Maud and two sons, Fred and Herbert. He has been connected with the silk industry for some time and at the time of his death was working as a foreman in a silk mill at Wrightsville.

PRINCESS TO WED IN THIS MONTH

Arrangements Are Now Being Made For Royal Marriage in Westminster Abbey.

London, Feb. 4.—Arrangements for Princess Mary's wedding to Viscount Lascelles at Westminster Abbey the last week of February are beginning to take form.

The Lord Chamberlain, the Duke of Atholl, has been commissioned by the King to draw up a sketch of the proposed ceremonial and the State Chamberlain, Sir Douglas Dawson, will prepare the program.

The sending out of 2,000 invitations is the task of the Ceremonial Department at St. James' Palace. A fortnight's notice is usually considered sufficient for such occasions. The King and Queen as a rule invite personally their own relatives from abroad.

Not all the guests at Westminster Abbey will be able to see the wedding ceremony. The choir and the transients will be set apart for the royal family, the diplomatic corps, personal friends of the Viscount and Princess and the members of the royal households and suites. The others will have to be content with a view of the procession.

The wedding will be solemnized by the Archbishop of Canterbury, or in his absence, by the Archbishop of York.

A wedding reception will probably be held in the ballroom at Buckingham Palace, at which the famous royal gold plate service will be displayed.

The confectionary for all the state functions is made by the confectioners at the Palace and it is presumed they will make the wedding cake.

DREAMS HE IS HEIR TO NEW YORK

Pennsylvania Man Will Fight For 200 Acres Worth Millions.

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 4.—William Schnepf, 30 years old, a plumber of Gap, Pa., rested on his downy couch Friday night, painting mental pictures of big bank rolls, bliss and Broadway.

For though at present employed in the hardware shop of George T. Sellers, one of Gap's leading merchants, Schnepf has been notified that leases on two big tracts of land in the center of New York city have nearly expired and that it is now up to him to take steps to enter into the possession of the property.

The fact that the two tracts, one eighty acres, the other 120 acres in extent, are valued at something like $120,000,000, has slightly accelerated Schnepf's determination to take quick steps.

Undaunted by the fact that such dreams are dreamed frequently by people all over the United States who wake up one day to find they have been only "blowing bubbles" and "building castles in the air," Schnepf has hired a lawyer, William Tregay, of Coatesville, and told him to track the tracts to their lairs if possible and nab them. Mr. Tregay is working on a commission basis, it is said.

Turning back the pages of Schnepf's family history it appears from what he himself says that his grandmother, Mrs. Mary E. Platt, nee Hanway, possessed leases to the two tracts in New York city. Mrs. Platt never succeeded in securing the fortune, however, because the fees of New York lawyers were so large she never had the money to pay them, Mr. Schnepf says, and they refused to work on a commission basis.

"Several years before the death of my mother, Mrs. Platt, a resident of Gap," he added, "she spoke to me of this fortune. But as the ninety-nine year leases then had some years to run she made no effort toward taking possession of the legacy which had come down from one of her forebears."

SOLDIERS BONUS BILL TO PASS

Will Carry Provision For Raising The Necessary Revenue to Finance It

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 4.—Soldier bonus legislation now under consideration by the House Ways and Means committee will carry a provision for raising the necessary revenue to finance it, Chairman Fordney announced today after a conference with President Harding at the White House. Whether the money will be obtained by internal taxes or by the use of proceeds from the refunding foreign debts or both remains to be determined, Mr. Fordney said.

Mr. Fordney expects the bill to be ready for the House within two weeks and thinks only a few days will be required for its passage.

It's Funny, The Difference a Few Thousand Miles Make

Life of Lewis, the Robber

Written by himself while a prisoner at Bellefonte, Pa.

Then I remained here about a year, during which time I began to have serious thoughts of reformation, when the powerful intercessions of my friends, and the knowledge I had of the weak side of Governor Findley in favoring applications of this nature, suggested a pardon as the best means of restoring me to liberty. As I expected, his excellency received my petition for a pardon in a manner that gave my friends no doubt of the success of the application, and they did not remain many hours in suspense before the secretary delivered them a paper under the great seal of the State, granting me full forgiveness for all my crimes, and a complete remission of all the penalties of the law. On my way from the penitentiary, I stopped at Harrisburg and as soon as it was dark, called upon the Governor to pay him my respects and thank him for his goodness. On parting with him, he gave me a bundle of letters to gentlemen in the western country, which I afterwards delivered. After I left Harrisburg I went to Bedford to endeavor to get back some of my money, which I had deposited in the bank, but the bank officers refusing my checks I was again reduced to great distress, and in a moment of despair was very near putting an end of my life, when I fell in with Rumbaugh, who had assumed the name of Connelly, and a man who called himself James Hanson. I did not keep their company many days before they persuaded me to join them in waylaying and robbing a Mr. McClelland, whom they had traced from Pittsburgh to Bedford, and who they found out was to pursue his journey to Philadelphia the following morning. We accordingly armed ourselves and proceeded to a tavern within a few miles of Bedford in a lonely place in the woods where we drank a pint of brandy, starting on a few rods ahead we at length stopped and waited in the woods near the roadside for about an hour, with great impatience, until Mr. McClelland came in view. He rode along at a slow pace and in a careless manner, until he had got nearly past us, when Connelly jumping out of the thicket, seized his horse by the bridle, and presenting, told him if he made any noise he would shoot him. Hanson and myself then came up and held his legs, while Connelly led his horse into the woods, where we took from him his money in the manner which has already been stated in the public prints. To escape detection, Connelly and Hanson purposed to make way with him, alleging that dead men tell no tales, I refused and told him if they did they must first murder me, and so deterred them from the bloody act. Having secured the money we then bent our course toward Lewis-town in Mifflin county, intending to proceed into the state of New York, but we were overtaken two miles from the former place, and brought back to Bedford. It may be proper here to state, that I had always determined not to stain my hands with blood, or kill anyone except in self defense, but I would certainly have shot Ephraim Enser, the man who caught me, after I had thrown down William Price, if my pistol had gone off. My natural disposition was by no means cruel, and hearing my mother read out of the Bible the story of Cain killing his brother Abel, when I was yet a child it made an impression on my young and tender heart which was never effaced.

After remaining in Bedford jail for some time, and finding the usage not such as should be given to prisoners in our condition, I determined to escape, and accordingly put the convicts and prisoners who were confined with me on a plan to get off which succeeded to my full expectation. We let out all the prisoners that would go excepting an ordinary fellow that had robbed a poor widow, and who, I was determined, should be left behind to take care of the jailer and his family whom we had locked in the same apartment lately occupied by us.

HAD ICY BATH IN SWOLLEN STREAM

J. F. Eisenhart, Abbottstown, Hucksler, Met With Unpleasant Experience.

ICE BREAKS ON STREAMS

Break Has Not Started on Conewago Creek Where Ice 18 Inches Thick is Reported.

J. F. Eisenhart, Abbottstown, received an icy bath while gathering produce on his huckster route Thursday afternoon. He was driving along on the canal road near the Golden farm in Paradise township, tenanted by Raymond Shaffer where a small stream crosses the road and is bridged by a low structure. The stream was high and flowing over the bridge to a depth of several inches. Mr. Eisenhart drove into the bridge and when he was just about in the middle of it the ice on the upper side broke with a loud crash and floated against his horses' legs. This caused the animals to back, pushing the wagon into the stream on the lower side of the bridge. The driver was thrown out of the wagon into water which was between five and six feet in depth, but he retained hold on the lines and directed the horses down stream a short distance to where a safe landing could be made.

Besides being thoroughly drenched, Mr. Eisenhart lost his blankets, several chicken coops, two pair of scales, hitching strap and twelve dozen eggs. Two calves which were in the wagon and under water most of the time during the mishap, were apparently uninjured. Mr. Shaffer gave the unfortunate man dry clothing and after a thorough warming he drove home none the worse for his experience.

Heavy Ice Reported

The warm weather of the past several days and the rainfall of Wednesday night and Thursday, caused the small streams in this county to overflow their banks. With colder weather, however, the streams have started to recede. In some places ice 17 and 18 inches in thickness has been broken up and many of the small streams that flooded their banks have carried tons of ice into the fields of the farmers. The ice on the Big Conewago creek had not broken up to noon Friday and the water is not very high although it is flowing out under the ice and over Lancaster, Feb. 4.—Franklin and Marshall College is made beneficiary by the will of George G. Sykes, of Allentown, who died last week, President Henry H. Apple received word that on the death of Mr. Sykes' widow the college will receive $25,000. An additional $10,000 is given to the Chi Phi fraternity. The bequests are made in memory of the testator's son, Edmund Ruhe Sykes, who died in an army camp in England during the war.

GAS TAX SOON TO BE PAID

First distribution of money to counties as their share of the gasoline tax will likely be made within a few weeks. The payments for December are now being checked up and owing to the fact that there are so many small accounts and all pay about the end of the month there is a rush of work.

WAS HARD FOUGHT GAME AT COLLEGE

Gettysburg Wins From Juniata by Score 27-19. Long Shots Feature.

During the opening minutes of the game with Juniata in the College gymnasium Friday evening, Gettysburg appeared hard pressed, but recovered steadily and pulled away until the final score tallied 27-19. It was a hard fought game in spite of the score, 17-7, at the end of the first period, showing Gettysburg far in the lead. During the second half the middle state men became more accustomed to the floor and made 12 points while the College quintet scored but ten.

Juniata scored first on two fouls, but Gingerich evened the score a few minutes later by dropping a long one from the middle of the floor through the strings. This he followed with two more and College began piling up their large margin. Eleven fouls were called on Gettysburg in the first half, Hoffman, of Juniata, making seven of them count. Juniata did not score a field goal in the first twenty minutes.

Both teams tightened considerably during the second period, with Juniata playing a shade better ball than Gettysburg. The foul shooting of Fisher was off throughout the game and Gingerich was called upon to shoot several times during the closing minutes. Gingerich and Emanuel lead the Gettysburg team in the scoring while Hoffman and Donaldson were the outstanding figures for Juniata.

Gettysburg Position Juniata

Substitutions: Gantz for Bream.

Referee: Saul.

CO-EDS MAKE APPEARANCE

First Team at College Holds Second Team Scoreless in Slow Game.

The Co-eds of Gettysburg College made their first public appearance in the basketball cage Friday evening when the first Co-ed team defeated their weaker sisters, the second team, by the score 8-0. The first half of the girl's game was played before the main attraction of the evening and the second half between the halves of the Juniata-Gettysburg game. A large and enthusiastic crowd of spectators were present before the doors were open at 6:45.

The first team showed remarkable ability at passing and guarding. The second team was lacking in both these phases of the game. This was the second game for the first team, the first being played two weeks ago with the Biglerville High School girls, whom they defeated.

Ruth Stallsmith and Katherine Fassold were the outstanding scorers for the first team while Miss Dougherty played a good game for the second five. The next game for the Co-eds will be played next Thursday night as a supplementary attraction with the Mt. St. Mary's game.

LOSE TO LEBANON

The Gettysburg High school basketball team was defeated by the Lebanon High school tilters Friday evening on the latter's floor by the score of 28-18. Lebanon stands fifth in the Interscholastic league, while Gettysburg stands sixth.

THEY WHO DANCE MUST PAY FIDDLER

People Cannot Take More Out of a Community Than They Put In.

COLLAPSE IS INEVITABLE

Town Will Not Survive Long If Its Commercial Structure Is Torn Down Faster Than It Can Be Built Up.

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)
He who dances must pay the fiddler. That is an old saying which is full of truth. The primary idea in this saying, of course, is that one cannot have any pleasure without paying for it in some way, but this is not the only sense in which it may be construed. It means that we cannot pursue any foolish policy indefinitely without paying for it in the end.

No man can overtax his physical strength indefinitely without risking ultimate disaster. Dissipation or overwork may be continued for a time without any noticeable results, but if continued for a sufficiently long time the inevitable comes to pass. The laws of nature cannot be violated with impunity. If one takes out of life more than he puts in, if he tears down his physical strength faster than he builds it up, he must eventually pay the fiddler.

What is true of the laws of nature is equally true of economic laws. The people of a community may for a time tear down the commercial structure of a town faster than they build it up without meeting disaster, but it cannot be continued indefinitely. In the end they must pay the fiddler.

Exhaust Resources of Community.
The person who makes his living in a community, receiving the money of the community for his labor or the products of his labor, and then spends his income outside of his community is helping to exhaust the resources of the community just as the man who expends his energy through dissipation or overexertion faster than he builds it up is exhausting his physical resources. One man may do this, of course, without noticeably affecting the economic strength of the community, but when a dozen men or women do it the effect becomes noticeable and when a hundred do it the resources of the community become exhausted to the point where collapse is inevitable. Those who are responsible for this situation may think that they have profited individually by their actions, but they have not realized that in the end they must pay the fiddler.

There are some persons who seem to be able to get through life without much effort. There are some who proceed on the theory that the world owes them a living and they proceed to collect it. They take what they can get and give nothing in return. Such persons, however, are not very numerous. Most of us must pay for everything that we get. Some may have to pay more than their share and these are carrying the burden of those who get more than they pay for. The fact remains that, as a general rule, one cannot have much worth while without paying for it.

The merchants of any community, are the backbone of that community, so far as its prosperity and progress are concerned. Individually there may be some of them who do not exert themselves to boost their community, but collectively they are the men upon whom the living of every person in the community depends. The success or failure of an individual merchant may not be of particular concern to the people of a community, but the success or failure of the merchants as a whole is a matter of the very greatest concern.

Provide Market for Farmers.

The merchants of a town, in the first place, provide a market for a large part of the products of the farmers in the territory surrounding the town. They buy the produce of the farmers in small quantities, in accordance with their need, and some of them buy in larger quantities for shipment to foreign markets. If the merchants could not do this there would be no market at least for the small quantities except at ruinous prices. If the farmers could not realize a reasonable profit from their products, there would be no money for them to spend and there could be no money to pay for their products or to pay for their labor. It is therefore, of the greatest importance to every member of the community, whether a resident of the town or a farmer in the country surrounding the town, that the merchants be enabled to provide this market for at least a part of the farmer's products.

Every dollar sent away from a town to a mail order house helps to diminish the ability of the local merchants to provide a market for the farmer's products or to do any of the many other things which the merchants of every town do for their community.

Business in a community cannot be conducted on a one-sided basis. A man cannot take out of his community a good living for himself and family and give nothing in return. He may do so for a short time and get away with it, but in the end he must pay the fiddler.

The Rest Policy.
It is better to be parsimonious than dishonest.

CHIEF WITNESS DIES SUDDENLY

Arthur Dubbs, Star Witness in Murder Case, Found Dead in His Home.

Harrisburg, Feb. 4.—Much mystery surrounds the sudden death early Friday morning of Arthur Dubbs, star witness in the case of the murdered Mike Kanoff, which was to have been tried in Dauphin county court next month. Dubbs was found dead at his home, 1112 North Cameron street, Harrisburg, and the coroner, Dr. J. H. Kreider, has ordered an autopsy and investigation.

Police here believe that Dubbs drank something with poison in it, although this cannot be determined until an autopsy is performed, it was said.

Whether he is the victim of foul play in some other form was not determined.

Dr. Kreider said that he understood Dubbs had been at a party in company with Charles Heckert, Luke Sours and Martin McCaleb. All these men will probably be questioned by the police, it was said. Dubbs had been living at East and Brown streets with Emma Kerstetter, and it is thought that she also will be quizzed.

The aged parents of the man, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dubbs, could not believe that their son no longer lived. Arthur Dubbs, although he was 43 years old, was still a baby to them. They are grief stricken.

In connection with the Kanoff case, Dubbs was one of the men who saw John Tony and Jack Stanoff running away from the yard in which they are supposed to have beaten their former friend to death, and Dubbs, with several others found Kanoff and placed him in the ambulance. He was to have been one of the chief witnesses when the postponed case came up for trial.

SON OF MURDERED FARMER IS HELD

Believe Young Miner Knows Who Killed His Father.

Lykens, Pa., Feb. 4.—Either Lloyd Smeltz, 23-year-old son of John Smeltz, who was with his father, John Smeltz, Wednesday night when, according to the son's story two bandits, shot and killed his father in a field near the Smeltz home, was a participant in the crime or he knows who the murderers were and is shielding them, police believe here yesterday.

Upon this theory the State and county authorities are working today, and from indications this afternoon, arrests are near. Lloyd Smeltz and a Ray Hoke, a minor of Big Run, are being detained for further investigation. Smeltz's story is said to be full of inconsistencies and impossible situations. The statements of members of his family, and of people he came in contact with on the day and night of the shooting, contradict his story from start to finish.

Ray Hoke, to whom Lloyd Smeltz is said to have given an old thirty-eight-calibre revolver, formerly that of his father's, on the evening of the shooting, has apparently succeeded in establishing an alibi and can, it seems, account for his movements and where he was the evening and night of the shooting.

This indicates, police assert, that Smeltz is left in the position of having admitted he had a gun the afternoon and evening of the shooting. It was of the same caliber of that used to kill the elder Smeltz, but Lloyd Smeltz cannot or will not tell what became of it. He is said to have told two different stories about what he did with the gun.

Late developments indicate yesterday that both are false.

DYNAMITE IS SHOCK PROOF

Half-Ton Rolls Down Hill With Truck Without Any Damage.

Winchester, Va. Feb. 4.—More than 1600 pounds of dynamite dropped from 50 to 60 feet, but failed to explode when a motor truck, owned by W. J. Gochenour, a well driller, of Maurertown, Va., skidded on ice, plucked over a retaining wall on the Shenandoah Valley pike at Fishers Hill today and rolled to the bottom of the hill. The driver and a man with him jumped as the truck started over the wall and ran from the scene as fast as their legs would take them, expecting to be blown to atoms. Two broken wheels and a dented fender constituted the damage.

Several fatalities have occurred at that point in the last few years.

SUNDAY CHECKERS ILLEGAL

Massachusetts Will Not Permit Game, Save as "Indoor Sport."

Boston, Feb. 4.—The House of Representatives today defeated a bill to legalize the playing of checkers and chess on Sunday.

Committee members, whose report against the measure was accepted, explained that there was nothing in the law forbidding the games indoors on Sunday. They come under the ban of old Blue Laws, however when played outdoors, and a cripple was recently convicted and fined at Brockton for playing checkers on Sunday in a public park.

It was after this incident that the Massachusetts State Checker Association sought to amend the Sunday sports law to include checkers among the "athletic outdoor sports or games" permitted between 4 and 6 o'clock on Sunday afternoons.

YORK SPRINGS' OLDEST CITIZEN

Frederick Winand, York Springs' oldest citizen, and father of E. C. Winand, East Berlin, celebrated his 92nd birthday, on Sunday. He was born and reared in the vicinity of York Springs and lived there most of his life, except a few months spent in Altoona, where he assisted in erecting the third house constructed in that town in 1840, working at the carpentering trade for a man by the name of Slaymaker Free and receiving 62 cents per day.

MUST BUILD DISPOSAL PLANT

participation in the war, was evident in the earnest plea he made in their behalf. "The first thing we must do is to see that all these unfortunate boys get a square deal. They have made great sacrifices for the country they loved and now they must not—they will not be forgotten. Every bit of legislation that has been passed in their interest has been written and fathered by the American Legion, and we are bound to see that they receive proper consideration and care."

In an eloquent manner, Humphrey Sullivan, who is traveling with the legion head, pictured the grim aftermath of the war, death, blindness, cripples, sick, insane men, broken-hearted mothers and wives and orphaned children. He declared that if the men who made the war, would have their lives or those of their loved ones endangered, there would be no further wars.

"Who Shall Sit At the Peace Table," a recitation, was ably given by Mrs. Edith Plank Shirley, of Philadelphia, who is traveling with the campaign party.

Care Disabled Soldiers

Discussion on the care of disabled soldiers by the American Legion and the Veterans' bureau was gone into thoroughly by Ben Metz and Mr. Gallagher. Joseph Goins, prominent veteran entertainer, amused the audience with a steady stream of wit and humor that seemed without end.

Congressman Frank Murphy, the orator of the evening, urged the former service men to hitch up with the legion and join "the best organization on earth." He urged the men to see that laws are enforced and referred to the present violations of the Eighteenth amendment. The propaganda that "something was put over the boys when they were in France," when the country was voted dry, was described as being the worst kind of bunk, spread by unscrupulous liquor forces.

Brief addresses by Joseph Goins, better known as "Senator Mahoney," and Edwin A. Barnitz, commander of York post, No. 127, brought the meeting to a close. An informal reception was tendered the legion chief afterward.

After his arrival in York from Lancaster Friday morning, Commander MacNider and his party were guests of York post at a dinner held in the Lafayette club. Early in the afternoon the chief visited the York hospital to give a message of cheer to Ray V. Sheffer, a disabled soldier.

Wonderful Sale Ladies' $40 Coats at $21.75

These coats just arrived and you will agree that they have an abundance of style and grace. We were fortunate indeed in securing these coats from our manufacturer's surplus stock at a substantial saving in price. Earlier in the season you would have gladly paid $40 for these hand-tailored garments; and at $21.75 which is just about half their former price this is a rare opportunity well worth investigating. We urge you to come early as we only have a dozen of these coats.

They are developed in all the season's wanted fabrics. Some have big genuine fur collars that can be worn in several becoming ways. Some have embroidered—others have tassel back effects. All are silk lined in patterned materials that blend harmoniously with the outer materials.
